For frosting:

The wind and the waves don't scare him, nor the depths of the mighty sea, for he is a Core Sound fisherman, so strong and tough is he.

In winter he walks and oysters and wades through many creeks, for he is a Core Sound fisherman, without him we'd not eat.

In spring he watches blue crabs and waits for shedding to start, he'll stay awake for days on end, because he is a Core Sound fisherman and this is a work of heart.

The summer will be a hot one, the days drag on and on, but he is a Core Sound fisherman and fishing is his song

In fall the weather is favored, for hauling in the Milestones

Whether it be setting crab pots, or draggin' the fortyfour, he is a Core Sound fisherman, he feels it to his core. He works the long hard hours, he'll even work at night, for he is a Core Sound fisherman, and fishing is his right.

Anytime you ever see Anniversaries one, be sure to shake his hand, it'll probably be a tough one, for he's a Core Sound man. So let him know you're thankful, for fishing day and night, it's more than just a job to him, he's fighting the good fight.

2 oz. cream cheese, softened; 3 tablespoons brown Thompson, Cecil Tuten, sugar; 2 teaspoons milk.

Grease and flour a ten-inch bundt pan (I prefer to use Bakers Joy cooking spray). In a medium bowl, cream butter and sugar together; blend in cream cheese until smooth. Add in eggs and vanilla. In a separate bowl, sift dry ingredients and combine. Slowly add to egg mixture until combined. Fold in carrots and pour into cake pan and bake 1 hour or until done. For frosting, whip together cream cheese and sugar until blended well, add in milk and mix until smooth. Spoon over warm cake, serve and enjoy!

Food Help

A wonderful project is under way: a spread sheet which lists every place in Carteret County to find food being provided for those in need. A letter sent to churches recently said: "Thank you for all you do for our hungry citizens and your faith com- munity in Carteret County. We at Food Secure Carteret have collected data about where hungry people can find pantry food or meals and where volunteers can be helpful; we work very hard to keep it super current."

"We need your help promoting this mega spreadsheet of data. Click on the webpage CrystalCoastNonprofits. org to find the red but# ton FOOD HELP and click Find it OFF Line? on that red button to see the most current data we can find... Or find Crystal Coast Nonprofit Network's Facebook page and share our red button from there."

In this letter written by Catherine Elkins, she also says, "You may wish to copy and print parts of this spreadsheet for your needs go right ahead. Let us know if you have suggestions, additions, or want to join our ZOOM meetings (4th Thursdays at 8:30 a.m.)

Thanks for your help in this effort to reduce food insecurity in Carteret County."

This is a problem that worries me. How many people are being left out because they don't have access to the internet? Even the county and the libraries put info online and figure everyone will see it.

If you are interested in this very useful list of places to find help for friends going through hard times, or wondering how and where, you can help by giving time or donations, I can only suggest that you call Catherine Elkins at the number above or Carteret Local Food Network at 252-777-2359.
